FINANCE DEPARTMENT

Submitted to the Government.

2. As the deceased had put in a qualifying service of over 28 years the Board considers that the grant of a gratuity of 12 months' pay with Dearness allowance which the deceased Government servant was getting at the time of his death would be equitable especially as there are six dependents of the deceased without sufficient resources for their subsistence. The pay last drawn by the deceased Govt.servant being Rs.25/- plus Rs.19/- (Dearness allowance) per mensem, the Board recommends that the applicant Fatima Bibi may be sanctioned a compassionate gratuity of Rs.500/- (Rs.Five hundred) only.

3. The rules regarding grant of compassionate gratuities are put up at (G)

4. Unless the total allotment is increased, the average amount available for each case likely to be sanctioned in the current year is about Rs. 219

~~The maximum amount admissible in this case is Rs.~~

(G)

5. Under Rule 6(ii) of the Madras Compassionate Gratuities Rules 1932, compassionate gratuity shall not ordinarily be granted where the application for the grant is submitted more than one year after the death of the Government servant, unless there are special reasons for condoning the delay. In this case, the peon died on 10-10-1949 and the papers have been sent by the Board finally to Government only on 25-10-1952 i.e. about 3 years after the death of the Government servant. The date on which the widow of the peon applied for compassionate gratuity is not available in the papers sent by the Board. Attention is, however, invited to G.O. No.63, Finance, (Pension), dated 12-2-1944, which provides that in the case of low paid subordinates like peons and other menials who are not likely to have saved any amount while in service, the authority concerned need not wait for a formal application for the Government servant's dependents, if he is satisfied that the circumstances of the family are such as to justify the grant of a compassionate gratuity. At the time of issuing orders, the Board of Revenue may be requested to issue instructions to the Collector to ensure that ~~similar delays do not recur~~ applications for comp. gratuity in the case of peons are submitted promptly to Govt.

The Board of Revenue has recommended the grant of a compassionate gratuity of Rs.500/- to the widow. The maximum amount that may be given in this case is Rs.(25 + 19) x 12 = Rs.528/-.
